

QUALITY POLICY

It is the policy of Cancoil Thermal Corporation to be the leader in product quality in the heat exchangers, refrigeration systems and air conditioning equipment products market.

The Quality Objective of Cancoil Thermal Corporation is to provide products and services that consistently meet or exceed the contractual demands and expectations of our customers and surpass the performance of our competitors.

We believe that the success of Cancoil is dependent upon continuous improvement in the way we design and manufacture our products, deliver our services and the way we conduct our business.

All of our employees are committed to identifying opportunities for continuous improvement of product quality during design, production, packaging and delivery and after sales service.

We know that our immediate and long-term success is dependent on supplying our customers with heat transfer products that fully meet their expectations, needs, on time, every time at a fair price. We know that we are not alone in this effort, but we will be the best.

OUR DEDICATION TO QUALITY IS OUR ASSURANCE OF SUCCESS